JNO. S. REYNOLDS, Associate Editor.

A Washington telegram says "Chamberlain will be advised to convene his Legislature, have the vote canvassed, and Hampton declared governor. This is thought to be the most agreeable settlement of the difficulty.'

The inauguration of Hayes in the city which bears the name of Washington, and the fact that he owes his position to the frauds of Madison Wells, place in strong contrast the early and the latter days of the Republic.

The bulldozing of Justice Wright will not help the Chamberlain crew. The failure of the two Justices to agree does not in ary way affect the fact that Hampton received a majori ty of the votes cast at the November election, and is therefore the legally chosen governor of South Carolina.

The New York Herald does not think that any member of the Electoral Commission will accept a Cabinet position from Hayes, as this would not be in accordance with propriety. None of the immortal Eight have as yet evinced the slight est regard for propriety, or even decency.

Three Radical newspapers have given up the ghost in Florida since the inauguration of Drew. The New Orleans Republican appears semioccasionally only; while the Union Herald is reported to be in articulo mortis. The "starve 'em out policy" is working well. Coming events east their shadows before. The Radical of the kindly purposes of Mr. Hayes, leaders will soon follow their organs.

The Rev. Phoebe Hanaford has been deposed from the pulpit of the First Universalist Church in the First Universalist Church in of the country, should have felt Jersey City after having been pastor itself compelled to confess before for over two years. The fact that all the world that it was too partisan her, while the females were unanimous for her expulsion, creates a having so confessed, they had persurmise that she might have been too successful an evangelist of the gorpel of love. Place holds the fort, however, and will form a second church in the same city.

Since writing the above, we have obtained possession of the documents which we append below. The presence of Bowen, Worthington and Gleaves in the city, and their constant association with Wright, and the generally known character of the men, as well as the notoriously public fact that they have bulldozed Wright into submission to their will-by wine, by threats, and by every conceivable means - leaves no doubt upon the minds of the people that they have accomplished the object for which they came to

The purport of a few remarks addressed by me to the people of Lancaster, at a meeting of the citizens assembled there on the 11th February, has been misrepresented in a reported interview between Judge Mackey and a correspondent of the New York Herald, and as it has appeared in your columns, I beg the privilege of making the correct

The meeting was called to hear Judge Mackey's account of his visit to Mr. Hayes, and after hearing from him assurances of the most positive character that Mr. Hayes yould be declared elected, and that the Democrats of the South might assure themselves that his administration would be just and kindly to the South, I was called out by the meeting and addressed them briefly.

I expressed my pleasure at hear ing the cheering assurances so sol-emnly given by Judge Mackey and expressed my confidence in those assurances. A Negro Watch Meeting

The New York Sun has a long account of a negro watch meeting somewhere in the South, and it contains a most extraordinary sermon, from which the following extracts are made :

I'll tell you a little allegoric or speech by de figger. Truth and Lie started out for to trabble. They stopped to drink at de ribber ob Jordan. Truth was thinking no evil, but Lie pushed him, and he fell in and was drowned. Lie got out, stole Truth's boots, 'and, meetin' a cullud pusson who was rootin' round whar he had no business, entered into him and sot up his habitation.
